The

GOLDEN WARRIOR

Foreword

The Annual Staff sincerely hopes that in the coming years this edition of the Sanger High Annual will serve as a reminder of the activities of 1952-53. We take pride in presenting the 1953 GOLDEN WARRIOR.

Dedication

The Annual Staff sincerely dedicates the 1953 GOLDEN WARRIOR to all our former teachers and sponsors.

Annual Staff

Superintendent's Message

To the Staff, Senior Class, students, and patrons of the Sanger School, I would like to say thank you for a very pleasant year.

May the memories of this year be carefully preserved for you in this, The Golden Warrior of 1953.

Sincerely yours,

C. D. Allen

Principal's Message

A short time after you leave school you will probably--perhaps deliberately--lay aside and forget many of the facts that you have learned. But you will treasure the friendships and associations that you have made for many years. The sense of values and the attitudes with which you have learned to look upon life will be a part of you as long as you live. Use them well; the fate of mankind may depend on it.

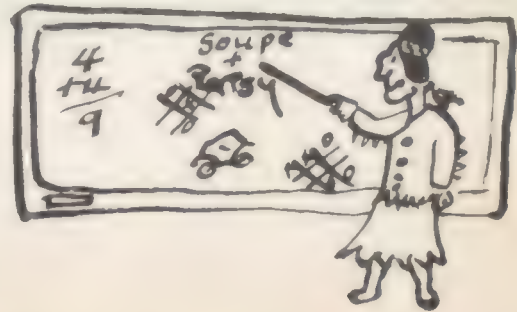

Sincerely,

Antonio Garcia

Class History

On a bright September morning in 1941, the red brick school building opened its doors to admit 31 first graders in the arms of Miss Alyne Seal. This group didn't realize that almost twelve years later, six of its number, Betty Kirby, Alta Holder, Billy George Draper, Jimmy Cole, Lawrence Odom, and Jackie Odom, along with nine other students who joined them at various times, would walk out of a more modern version of the same building wearing caps and gowns and carrying diplomas.

The graduating class is quite different from the group who forced themselves to eat green beans in the second grade (after we learned that Hitler didn't like them.) Bobby Moseley and Greta Gene Hughes joined us that year.

Mrs. Marguerite Riggs was our third grade teacher, and Bobby Stanford joined us. At the end of the year we happily moved upstairs to the fourth grade and Mrs. Winnie Minick. However, we were sad to be leaving the cleanliness contests. (The winners received huge lollipops and were allowed to eat them in class.) Robert Cudd and Murl Bishop joined us that year.

Miss Winnie taught us again in the fifth grade, where we received Elaine Baker, Mack Warfield, Carrol Moore & Elizabeth Belcher from the fourth grade. This year the girls and boys stopped fighting each other and started chasing each other.

Mrs. Burroughs ruled us with a ruler in the sixth grade. Joe Phillips joined us and displayed his artistic talents on the walls of the school.

Mrs. Brown was our teacher for the seventh grade. We were very sad when the gym burned in December. In the eighth grade we came into the new building. Mrs. Cleo Lockhart was our teacher. She helped us put on a health program over KDNT. Seven students ran neck and neck for valedictory honors. Carrol won, and Elizabeth and Betty Jo were salutatorians. All of our present graduating class were among the 23 grade school graduates that year.

25 students entered high school in September, 1949. We were welcomed by the upper classmen who initiated us into the FHA and FFA clubs. The initiations were physical and mental terrors for us, but we lived through them. Mrs. Alyne Chastain, English teacher, guided us through all our high school activities.

During our sophomore year, our sponsor was Miss Loreta Smith, homemaking teacher. Coach Ken Kearns frowned on our many class parties, but we didn't give them up.

Our junior year was filled with plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet, football games (we won bi-district championship), and basketball. Mr. Neilan Cook, agriculture teacher, was our sponsor. Mrs. Pat LeBeau helped us immensely with the banquet. The theme was Hawaiian and we had Hawaiian guests.

The senior year began with a bang. We elected Mr. Allen as sponsor and Miss Callie as assistant sponsor. Miss Mizell, English teacher, was a great help in producing our annual. Annual sales and advertising were very successful, thus leaving the class with sufficient funds for an enjoyable senior trip. We were unfortunate to lose Murl Bishop, Duncan Lynch, and Bobby Moseley, who had played an important part in obtaining the bi-district football title for the second time.

We have had a wonderful time during our school years and will always carry the memories of that time with us.

Senior Class Will of 1953

Elaine Baker leaves her pretty red sweaters to Helen Denison.

To Jack Cockrill, Billy Draper wills his collection of football equipment.

Elizabeth Belcher wants Betty Blakely to have her sharp wit and tongue.

Alta Holder leaves her candy keys to Ethelyn Ready, in hopes that Ethelyn likes candy, too.

Greta Hughes wills all Junior boys to _____?

Robert Cudd contributes all his back geometry assignments to Dr. Einstein in hopes that he can work them.

Betty Kirby wishes to leave Billy Ed a loaded gun in hopes that he will soon use it!

To all high school teachers, Bobby Moseley wills his habit of being late to school.

Carrol Moore wills all his senior girls back to their rightful owners.

Jackie Odom and Joe Phillips leave their back seats in English class to Richard Patton and Ruth Jean in hopes that they learn lots of English back there!

Lawrence Odom wills his mathematical ability to Mr. Garcia in hopes that he will become a better teacher.

Bobby Stanford wills his siphoning hose to Albert Lynch.

Murry Phillips leaves his job as football manager to anybody with ambition.

To Jimmy Brown, Mack Warfield leaves all his hot rod magazines.

Jimmy Cole wills his football skill to Billy Mundy.

To the Juniors we leave our football record in hopes that they will keep leading the team on!

To the Sophomores, we will our ways and means of skipping classes.

To the Freshmen, we leave our outstanding trait of being late to class.

We, the class, will our list of assorted excuses to our swell sponsor, Mr. Allen.
To Miss Callie, we leave the settlement of our feuds.

Mr. Allen's Nightmare

Class Prophecy

As Mr. Allen returned home from one of the hectic annual staff meetings, he fell exhausted on the bed and was soon asleep. He had this terrible nightmare about the class five years from now, in which he dreamed that the class had taken over the school.

He saw Robert Cudd, principal, trying to figure out a math problem with the help of Alta Holder, grade school principal. In the front office he saw a sign saying, "Carrol Moore, Super-super-intendent, office hours 2:30 to 3:00 p.m."

A masculine voice was saying, "The best remedy for that is to bang the little brats' heads against the wall!" And who was saying that but Mack Warfield, child psychology expert, talking to the first grade teacher, Elaine Baker, who thoroughly agreed with him. Elizabeth Belcher, sixth grade teacher, was asking him what methods she could use, since most of her students were larger than the teacher.

He heard screams of "I knowed I was right!" and a female voice screaming back, "You ain't; You ain't!" He found the screams coming from the English Department where Billy Draper, head of the English Department, and Betty Kirby, English Professor, were arguing about the themes the freshman class had written with the help of Jimmy Cole, typing teacher.

He then heard Greta Hughes, homemaking teacher, with plans in one hand and menus in the other, calling to Murry Phillips, head of the school sanitation department, and his seven assistants. They were still trying to fix the broken pipe in the Homemaking room.

Jackie Odom, librarian, passed him in the hall loaded down with literature for Coach Lawrence Odom's football boys and for social studies teacher Bobby Stanford. He wondered about the literature until he noticed it was comic books for the football boys and pin-ups for the social studies department.

Jackie returned to the library to find Joe Phillips, Agriculture teacher, borrowing her paints to decorate his prize Poland China hogs.

At that moment Mr. Allen heard the school bell ring, but it wasn't really the bell, at all, but his alarm clock ringing. He got up and began to get ready to go to school, dreading facing the Seniors, but glad that his dreams weren't true.

Season's Record

The Sanger Indians humbled the Alvord Bulldogs 19-6 to start the season off right. The entire squad played a terrific game.

The usual jinx was in force as the Lewisville Farmers beat the Indian team 12-7. The Indians played good ball, but the breaks were against them.

The Indians played a fast but inexperienced Callisburg team off their feet to the tune of 40-6. This was the first time the Indians were at full strength.

The favored Joshua Owls barely managed to slip past the hard-fighting Indians 19-14, on a last minute touchdown. The Indians played one of their best games in several years, but the Owls with the help of two fifteen yard penalties came back on them.

The Indians ran all over a weak but scrappy Era team to the score of 59-6. They scored almost at will, with the whole team playing good ball.

Using the second team defense, the Indians rolled stubborn Boyd's team under 52-6. Credit was due the second team for stopping the Boyd offense cold.

The Sanger Indians went down before a mighty team from Forney 40-18. The Indians were the first team to score on the Forney first string in 28 games.

The Sanger Indians sank Muenster 26-0 as Bishop ran wild and the Sanger defense stopped Muenster with only two first downs. The offense opened the Muenster line wide open.

The Indians ran Valley View off the field 66-6. Bishop ran for a T.D. on the first play and the rest of the game went about the same.

The Indians pushed six points across in the first quarter and held on to down the team from St. Jo and capture their second straight district crown.

The Indians annexed the bi-district crown for the second year by downing the Frisco Coons 9-0. The whole team played a great game.

The Indians held the Region III Championship in their hands for three periods, but let it slip away to a team from Aspermont. The Indians let the Hornets come back and beat them 26-20 in the fourth quarter.

The following Seniors were on this year's football team: Jimmy Cole-guard; Mack Warfield-center; Robert Cudd-back; Bob Moseley-end; Lawrence Odom-end; Duncan Lynch-end; Billy Draper-tackle; Murl Bishop-back; Carrol Moore-center; and Murry Phillips-manager.
